

The American Parkinson Disease Association (APDA) is currently seeking an Executive Director for the Missouri Chapter to join their growing organization. The Missouri Chapter, based in Chesterfield, is one of APDA's most well-established chapters and provides an array of dynamic programs and services. The Chapter has a staff of six and a revenue budget of approximately $1M, and its territory includes Missouri and Southern Illinois. The Chapter serves as the hub of the Midwest Region which covers Missouri, Illinois and Iowa. The Chapter seeks an Executive Director (ED) to lead its team to achieve continued growth and champion efforts in the region. The position requires some evenings and weekends and includes travel locally, statewide, and regionally to cultivate relationships, engage constituents and attend local events and meetings.

The ideal candidate has leadership experience in the non-profit sector, is familiar with Missouri's geography, culture, and the philanthropic market; has a proven track record in fundraising and donor cultivation; is knowledge of Parkinson's disease and/or chronic illness, the healthcare and social service systems; possesses strong relationship-building skills and communications strengths, the ability to multi-task, deliver exceptional customer service; and utilize keen problem solving and judgment skills.

AMERICAN PARKINSON DISEASE ASSOCIATION:

Founded in 1961, American Parkinson Disease Association (APDA) is the largest grassroots network dedicated to fighting Parkinson's disease. APDA's mission is to "provide the support, education, and research that will help everyone impacted by Parkinson's disease live life to the fullest." It has raised and invested more than $252 million to provide outstanding patient services and educational programs, elevate public awareness about the disease, and support research designed to unlock the mysteries of Parkinson's disease and ultimately put an end to this disease.

The organization's 2022-2024 Strategic Plan outlines ambitious targets, including:

1. Expand constituent-centric, evidence-based, and impactful programs, services, and research that improves quality of life throughout the disease continuum.
2. Cultivate partnerships and collaborations to expand and elevate mission delivery to meet Parkinson community needs.
3. Expand reach to under-served, under-studied and under-represented communities to promote health equality and access to care and provide education and support.

THE ROLE:

The Executive Director (ED) provides strategic leadership in the Chapter's chartered territory and is responsible for engaging mission delivery, generating revenue, and maximizing community presence. The ED manages chapter human and financial resources and creates an atmosphere for volunteers, staff, and stakeholders to succeed in meeting the objectives of APDA's mission to ease the burden and find the cure for Parkinson's Disease. The ED will accomplish this through the development, implementation and evaluation of all chapter programs and services, events, and operations, and administers APDA policies and procedures necessary to ensure efficient functioning and sustainable growth. The ED reports to a Regional Director and works in conjunction with the Chapter's Board of Directors and with the support and approval of the APDA President and CEO and/or designee(s).
